

Chairman Powell's attempts to dismiss rules limiting ownership of broadcast media will result in a feeding frenzy by established communications companies, leading in turn to virtual monopolies of the news and entertainment media. Democracy itself is at stake here, and I consider Powell as the most dangerous person in America.